We may also work with service providers that collect data about your use of the App. We use analytics providers to gather and analyze aggregated anonymous user information.

These tools provide insight into what works and what doesn't work for users of the App and they allow us to, for example, identify and repair technical errors that impair the App's functionality. The analytics tools also help us reconstruct the user experience to better understand, for example, where users may be encountering frustration or impediments to using the App.

Children's Privacy

We understand the importance of protecting children's privacy, especially in an online environment. Our App is not intentionally designed for or directed at children less than 16 years of age. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children under the age of 16. U.S. State-Specific Disclosures

Illinois Biometric Information Privacy Act, Texas Capture or Use of Biometric Identifier Act (“CUBI”) Disclosure, Washington Biometric Privacy Law

Ophthya measures the distance between the centers of your pupils, which is termed pupillary distance (“PD”). Your PD measurement is generally part of the prescription provided by an ophthalmologist, optometrist or optician. PD determines the ideal spot where you should look through your lens. The measurement centers your eyeglasses correctly over your eyes to avoid eye strain and to ensure the best fit.

The Ophthya App downloads to your personal device and runs and processes data only on your device, using your device’s live camera feed. Only you see the PD measurement in real-time on your device. The PD measurement is immediately deleted from your device when your use of Ophthya ends. If you wish to remember your PD measurement, you need to save it, share it in a way you prefer, write it down or take a screenshot of the measurement on your device. There is no transfer of your PD measurement from your device to Ophthya. The only information transferred from your device to Ophthya is the usual data analytics used to evaluate user interaction to improve the App.

This policy and consent are intended to comply with laws such as the Illinois Biometric Information Privacy Act, 740 ILCS 14/1 et seq. (“Privacy Act”), the Texas Capture or Use of Biometric Identifier Act, Tex. Bus. & Com. Code Ann. §503.001, the Washington Biometric Privacy Law, Wash. Rev. Code Ann. §19.375 et seq., the California Consumer Privacy Act, Cal. Civ. Code §1798.100 et seq., and other applicable laws. This policy and consent supplements prior communications, policies and practices that relate to this subject.

Ophthya does not collect, store, use, possess or disclose any biometric identifiers or biometric information identifiable to you, as defined by the Privacy Act. A “biometric identifier” is “a retina or iris scan, fingerprint, voiceprint, or scan of hand or face geometry.” See, e.g., 740 ILCS 14/10. “Biometric information” is “any information, regardless of how it is captured, converted, stored, or shared, based on an individual’s biometric identifier used to identify an individual.” Id. Biometric identifiers and biometric information do not include “photographs” or “information captured from a patient in a health care setting, or information collected, used, or stored for health care treatment, payment, or operations under the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996.” Id.

The laws regarding biometric data are constantly evolving regarding how and whether biometrics are being collected, stored, disclosed, or used, etc. To the extent that biometric laws change and we are deemed to collect, store, disclose or use biometric data under these evolving laws, you hereby consent to our collection, storage, use, disclosure, access to, and destruction of your scan, effective the first date you used the App. You understand that we treat any scan as confidential, sensitive information, use reasonable care to protect it from disclosure to unauthorized third-parties, and timely destroy it once your use of the App ends or in accordance with applicable law, unless a longer retention period is required.

You acknowledge that this policy is available to you, and the public, at any time upon request or via this App. If you have any questions or concerns regarding this policy and consent, please contact us as described in the Contact Information section below. By using this App, you acknowledge that you have read this policy, understand it and agree to abide by it, in addition to Ophthya’s full Privacy Policy and its Terms and Conditions of Use.
