ESSILORLUXOTTICA DIVIDEND PAYMENT AND OPTION TO RECEIVE DIVIDEND IN SHARES

The Board of Directors of EssilorLuxottica S.A. ("EssilorLuxottica") proposed to the Annual Shareholders' Meeting held on May 21st, 2021 the payment of a dividend of Euro 1.08 per share for the fiscal year 2020. As approved by the Shareholders' Meeting, shareholders of EssilorLuxottica (the "Shareholders") have the choice to receive:

- a cash dividend, of Euro 1.08 per share; or
- a dividend in the form of newly issued EssilorLuxottica ordinary shares.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

1. What is a share-based payment of dividends?

Dividend is usually paid in cash but can also be paid in new shares or even in kind if the General Shareholders' Meeting so decides. Shareholders are given the possibility to choose between a payment in cash or a payment in newly issued shares, subject to being eligible for the payment of the dividend in shares.

Once the option is exercised, it applies for the entire dividend to which the Shareholder is entitled. It is therefore impossible to ask for payment of the dividend partly in shares and partly in cash.

2. Why does EssilorLuxottica offer the option of payment of the dividend in shares?

Payment of dividend in shares is relatively common amongst large companies in Europe. It offers to the Shareholders the flexibility to choose new shares or cash. Shareholders can re-invest their dividend in EssilorLuxottica shares by electing to receive the dividend in the form of new EssilorLuxottica shares. This offers Shareholders an attractive opportunity to participate in the future growth potential of EssilorLuxottica. Finally, the terms of the payment in shares provide Shareholders with the opportunity to receive new EssilorLuxottica shares at a price below the reference market price.

TAXATION

14. What would be the taxation applicable to the dividend payment in shares?

Regardless of where the Shareholders are resident for tax purposes, dividends received in shares are taxed the same way as cash dividends.

N.B: the following Taxation Q&As are meant to cover the most frequent cases: in general, Shareholders are advised to consult with their tax advisers and/or Financial Intermediaries for specific information relating to their situation (including the case of shares held under a Share Savings Plan - PEA).

15. What would be the applicable tax treatment for Shareholders who are physical persons tax resident in France?

For dividends paid to Shareholders who are physical persons tax resident of France the withholding tax, as well as any applicable social security contribution, are deducted directly from the amount of the dividend, under the same conditions as for a payment in cash.

Shareholders who are physical persons resident in France for tax purposes can receive the dividend in shares up to:

- 100% of the gross dividend, provided that such Shareholders pay in full the 17.2% social charges and the additional 12.8% income tax (in case they did not apply for any tax exemption) through their Financial Intermediaries; or
- 70% of the gross dividend, net of the 17.2% deduction for social charges and the 12.8% income tax.

Shareholders will then be able to opt for the progressive tax rates, with a 40% rebate on the gross dividend, instead of the flat tax of 12.8%, through the filing of their annual income tax returns. This option will apply on all their annual investment income. In such case, the 12.8% income tax deduction will be chargeable against the final tax calculated with progressive tax rate and any excess will be refunded by the French Tax Authorities.

16. What would be the applicable tax treatment for Shareholders who are physical persons tax resident outside France?

Subject to the timely provision of tax formalities, pure registered Shareholders who are physical persons not tax resident in France can receive the dividend in shares up to:

- 100% of the gross dividend, provided that such Shareholders pay in full all applicable withholding taxes through their Financial Intermediaries; or
- 87.2% of the gross dividend, net of the 12.8% withholding tax; or
- X% of the gross dividend after deducting withholding tax at the rate set out under the prevailing tax regime between France and the Shareholders' country of residence, upon presentation of a tax residency certificate (form No. 5000 attestation of residence, available online at www.impots.gouv.fr). This process will be applied in accordance with the simplified procedure, whereby Shareholders send to their Financial Intermediaries (including BP2S for pure registered Shareholders) the relevant tax residency certificate at least one month before the opening of the Election Period; or
- 25% of the gross dividend, net of the 75% withholding tax deduction, for Shareholders tax resident in a non-cooperative country or territory ("NCCT") or, regardless of the tax residence of the beneficiary, if the dividend is paid to an account opened in the books of a financial institution located in a NCCT.

COSTS

17. Can Financial Intermediaries charge Shareholders a fee when they choose payment of the dividend in shares?

Payment of dividends to Shareholders, whether in cash or in shares, are usually not subject to any fee payable to the relevant Financial Intermediary, unless such Financial Intermediary specifies in its terms and conditions that a fee is due by the Shareholder on cash payments or transfers of shares.
